Murder Charge Against Five Asked As Larkin And Ryan Cling To Life

By JACK WELTER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Warden Clarence A. Larkin and Guard Captain William J. Ryan clung precariously to life today as the state made its initial move to exact an atonement of death from five convicts who survived last Sunday's bloody riot at Folsom Prison.

With two convicts and Guard Harry E. Martin already dead as a result of the abortive escape attempt, hopes for survival of the two veteran prison officials rose and fell.

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock went before the Sacramento County grand jury demanding murder indictments against the five convicts even before it could be known definitely whether all would survive to face the charges.

The prosecutor asked the grand jury to return a murder indictment charging Martin's slaying as its single count. If Larkin or Ryan, or both, should die, he said he would seek additional indictments on those scores.

Although both men remained apparently on the borderline of death, Dr. Proctor W. Day, Folsom Prison physician, reported some progress on the favorable side.

Menaced by dangers of general peritonitis, Larkin's condition was uncertain. After touching a low ebb yesterday and sinking to so low his wife was rushed to his bedside, he showed a sudden rally. Ryan, his respiration impeded by three knife thrusts through both lungs, also gained ground.

REGION FARM BUREAU TO MEET IN COUNTY

Nine From County Attend Gathering On Tuesday Held At Marysville

The November meeting for the Sixth Region of the California Farm Bureau Federation, embracing Sutter, Yuba, Placer, Nevada, Butte and El Dorado Counties, will be held in El Dorado County.

Date for the meeting was set Tuesday at Marysville for November 6. It is understood that the date is tentative and may be changed if it is found that the regional farm bureau gathering will conflict with the annual meeting of the Amador-El Dorado Livestock Association, usually held on the first Saturday in November.

Eight representatives of farm centers in the county, accompanied by Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley, attended the September regional meeting at Marysville on Tuesday, at which an exceptional number of the leaders in the work of the Farm Bureau in the state were speakers.

In addition to Mr. Lilley, those present from El Dorado County included Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Haslam, L. R. Enzler, Mrs. Howard Ronsheimer, Alexis Lafaille, Carrol Miller, Roy Marks, and Frank Holt.

P.T.A. DISTRICT MEETS IN PLACERVILLE WEDNESDAY

The meeting opened at ten o'clock in the morning and there was a luncheon at the clubhouse, following which the afternoon session convened.

An especially gratifying feature of the meeting to members of the Placerville association, was the large attendance of members from P.T.A. units in rural El Dorado County.

U. S. STRENGTHENS NORTH PACIFIC DEFENSE BASES

By HOWARD J. BRICE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SEATTLE (UP)—The Federal government has put millions of dollars into frontier defenses in the Pacific Northwest and Alaska during the last few years, a survey showed today.

All three basic defense arms—the army, navy and air force—have shared in the modernization and expansion program.

Perhaps one of the most important developments was the numerous reconnaissance flights familiarizing navy and army fliers with conditions in the north and along the coast. A large area was mapped during these trips.

Last summer 24 huge navy patrol bombing planes flew non-stop from San Diego, California to Sand Point naval air station here, then proceeded to Alaska, where they engaged in tactical maneuvers for two weeks. Significant was the planes' ability to fly long distances in fast time. They made the 1,100-mile flight from San Diego in eight hours.

Movie Cooking School Opens

"The Bride Wakes Up" Draws Large Audience; To Be Shown Thursday And Friday

A large audience of El Dorado County housewives was at the Empire Theatre Wednesday afternoon for the opening of the county's first motion picture cooking school, presented under the sponsorship of The Mountain Democrat.

The demonstration of the culinary arts was conducted through the medium of a feature-length motion picture, "The Bride Wakes Up."

The story of the film, as the title would seem to betray, is of a young bride who learns from an older woman the secrets of cooking in a modern kitchen—after she "wakes up."

While the picture does have a plot, its most attractive feature from a homemaking point of view are the many "close-ups" shown in the various processes of homemaking demonstrated.

There is no admission charge and the picture will be shown on Thursday afternoon and again on Friday afternoon. Homemakers are invited.

IRONER DEMONSTRATION DAILY FEATURE AT COOKING SCHOOL

As a part of the home maker's program, in connection with the Motion Picture Cooking School, which opened at the Empire Theatre Wednesday for three days, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is holding an electric ironer demonstration in the lobby of the theatre.

Marie Meyer, appliance counselor, from Sacramento, conducts the demonstration beginning at 1:30 each afternoon and immediately after the close of the school at 4 p. m.

Interested homemakers are urged to consult Miss Meyer and feel free to ask any questions, without incurring any obligation.

James F. Purcell, P. G. & E. Co. dealer representative for this county from Sacramento and Earl Seel, from the office of the company's advertising department in San Francisco are here to assist in the demonstration and the cooking school.

She was assisted by Mrs. Percy McNie, Mrs. Don Hook, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Helen Pierroz, Mrs. Hugh Schafer and Mrs. Bertha Burrows, superintendent of the Sunday school.

SCHOLARSHIP GROUP INITIATES FIVE

Picnic Meeting Held Tuesday Following School At State Park At Coloma

El Dorado County high school chapter of the California Scholarship Federation initiated five new members at a picnic held Tuesday afternoon and evening at Marshall Monument State Park at Coloma.

Membership in the society, which now numbers fifteen at the high school, is based upon the student's scholarship and requires that grades in four academic subjects must equal three A's and one B.

The five new members were those who qualified for membership by their scholastic record at the close of the last school year.

President William Hardie conducted the meeting and other students who attended included Barbara Smith, Floyd Fisher, Stannard Gardner, Don Cosens, Lester Baumhoff, Betty Stinger, Janis Ball, Ruth Brown, Lucille Kurwitz, Inez Bonetta, Francis Byrnes, Anna Jane Basham, Mary Jane Newman and Elaine Muir.

The pupils were accompanied by their faculty advisors, M. E. Wright and Miss Elizabeth Harper and by Mrs. Edwin Smith and Principal B. E. Larson.

HALL CASE MAY GO TO JURY ON THURSDAY, IT IS BELIEVED

The second trial of Lowell Hall charged with incest, which opened Monday in Superior Court before Judge E. N. Rector, was resumed Wednesday following recess taken Tuesday afternoon.

Examination and cross-examination of the first witness for the state occupied all of Tuesday and about half of the Wednesday morning session of court.

It was indicated that the People's case might be concluded before the close of court on Wednesday and this led some to believe that the matter might be given to the jury late Thursday.

A scattering of spectators was in the courtroom Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Warren Benson was a caller from Somerset Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Green left Tuesday for Modesto following the receipt of word reporting a fire in their residence at that place. Mr. Green understood that the blaze was extinguished after damage of several hundred dollars had been done.

LEGION NAMES LOS ANGELES

1938 National Convention Comes To Coast As Denver And Chicago Withdraw

By JOSEPH MYLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, (UP)—The 1938 convention of the American Legion was awarded to Los Angeles today after Denver and Chicago had withdrawn their bids. The award was made by a unanimous vote.

The Legion, returned to the serious business of its 19th annual convention after a spectacular, 18 hour parade up Fifth Avenue.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, spoke at the second business session of the convention, at which the 1339 official delegates received reports from various committees.

After the invocation and advancement of colors Commander Colmery asked the delegates to "give a hand" to the national champion drum and bugle corps from San Gabriel, Calif., who had enlivened the still sleepy delegates with a few tunes.

He then introduced Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs for the past 15 years, who told the Legionnaires that they were "needed to lead our citizens in the proper channels and safeguard our institutions."

New national commander, to succeed retiring Harry W. Colmery, of Kansas, will be elected tomorrow. Leading candidates were Ray Kelly of Detroit and Daniel Doherty of Boston. There were reports that the "powers" had united to support Doherty's candidacy, and his campaign managers claimed enough votes to elect him on the first ballot.

Paralysis cases were still running ahead of last year and the nine year average. Last year at this time there were only 242 cases in the nation and the nine year average is 334 cases.

But don't forget Eyes

Your child can wear old clothes to school and still be at the top of the class. Pens, pencils, bags, lunch-boxes are not necessary for successful school work.

But eyes are. Most lessons are learned through the eyes. If the eyes see badly, or make hard work of seeing, your child will be seriously handicapped, now and in after life.

Eye strain is the most readily corrected and one of the most easily cured of all physical handicaps. Give your child a fair start in the school year. Have an eyesight examination at once.

ONLY FITTEST SURVIVE IN ALASKA COLONY OF SEALS

SEATTLE (P)—A natural "life group" of seals, showing environment and conditions under which the animals live will be constructed in Field Museum of Chicago. C. J. Albrecht, member of the museum staff, said here on his return from the Pribilof Islands in the Bering Sea off Alaska.

Albrecht brought with him 40 seal skins acquired in the islands without firing a shot, throwing a harpoon or using a club. He also carried 1,000 photographs and reels of motion pictures. He said that it would take a year and a half to make a duplicate of the seal family in its natural habitat.

"The group will show the environment and conditions under which the animals live," Albrecht said. "It will duplicate the famed Lukanna rookery on St. Paul Island, with Mount Pulyvena in the background and with bulls, cows and pups in the foreground."

Because of the law prohibiting killing seal, Albrecht collected dead animals which were victims of their own fierce seal society. The bulls were killed in fights over females and the cows and pups were killed accidentally in the battles.

Midget Bear Of Australia Facing Extinction

SYDNEY, (P)—The Koala, or "native bear" of Australia, is again in the news.

This little tree-climbing marsupial, about 2 feet in length when full grown is a great favorite with tourists and each capital city has its "bear farm" where the animals can be preserved and petted by visitors. They are approaching extinction in a wild state.

Noel Burnet, probably the greatest living authority on the koala declares that if nothing of a practical nature is done to preserve the tiny animal, it will become extinct in 10 years.

WHITE MAN'S FOOD BAD FOR TEETH OF ESKIMOS

ROCKPORT, Ind., (P)—Most primitive Eskimo have little tooth trouble if isolated from traders and white men's food, according to Dr. Taylor Pyle, Bureau of Indian Affairs supervising dentist for Alaska, who visited here recently.

He said that dental cavities are rare among tribes that are isolated in Alaska while, on the other hand, the Indian who has been in contact with the white men since the coming of the Russians is constantly developing a toothache.

As wards of the government, Eskimos and Indians receive free dental attention, Dr. Pyle said. There are about 35 practicing dentists in Alaska, and Eskimo and Indian work is distributed among about 15 of these in widely separated districts. In addition, Dr. Pyle personally attends the more isolated communities, reaching them by plane, boat and dog team.

Flying Physician Gets Calls By Radio

SYDNEY, (P)—The substitution of the airplane for the horse and buggy of the country doctor in making his rounds, has made possible a decided increase in the territory covered.

Dr. L. E. Odium, the flying doctor of Australia who has based his airplane medical service in Broken Hill, estimates that he now serves a territory of 500,000 square miles, embracing New South Wales and parts of Queensland, South Australia and Victoria.

His practice has become so extended and at the same time so essential, that the government has granted a subsidy to enable patients to call him at times. Twenty pedal transmitting and receiving sets have been installed in various parts of the vast territory so that sick people can call him by wireless.

The road is a remnant of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad, which battled through a 13-year receivership and finally broke into four branches in 1926.

"RICH" RADIUM MINE ASSAYS NAUGHT BUT IRON OXIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—Walter W. Bradley, state mineralogist, today announced after an official assay that he had found "nothing more than dirt cheap iron oxide" in ore samples from Mrs. Josie Bishop, Red Rock Canyon mine, supposedly the richest radium mine in the world.

Mrs. Bishop's mine is located between the Mojave Desert and Owen Lake, east of Bakersfield. A veteran prospector, Mrs. Bishop found the mine while searching for gold and silver ore. Believing the land she was prospecting contained radium, she sent a sample to the Curie Institute of Paris for assay.

The institute reported the ore was rich in pitchblende and contained the highest radium content of any deposit known in the world.

MAY-DECEMBER WEDDINGS INTEREST BRITISH PSYCHOLOGISTS

The latest case was that of the Rev. G. S. Tubbs, vicar of West Chinnock, Somerset, 60, who announced his engagement to Miss Betty Fewings, 16, one of his parishioners.

"SCHOOLMASTERS" MAKE COMEBACK IN WISCONSIN

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Men more and more are turning to school teaching in Wisconsin, a survey by the state education association reveals.

An increased number of men in the teaching profession during the last seven years applies in rural, village grade, city and high schools.

In 1930, there were 3,000 male teachers in the state's elementary and high schools. The number had grown to 4,500 in 1936. During the same period the number of women teachers in the same schools decreased 600.

Rural schools, strongholds of women teachers some years ago, had more than 1,000 male teachers in 1936 compared to 631 in 1930.

The association characterized the change as "a healthier condition," permitting development of many club and hobby activities which could not be achieved most effectively with women teachers.

Marriage Has Best Chance To Succeed At Age 25

BOSTON (UP)—Young couples would have a better chance at marital happiness if they waited until they were 25 years old to wed, according to Mrs. Hilda Quirk, recently retired Boston marriage registrar.

Mrs. Quirk believes the age before which girls must obtain parental consent for marriage should be raised to 21, the same as now holds for boys.

A difference in age of man and wife, if not too great, will not affect their happiness, especially if the man is about 40 or 50, according to Mrs. Quirk.

Lake Bottom Yields Ancient Artifacts

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—Implements believed to have lain from 1,000 to 2,000 years in the shore soil of Oneida Lake have been unearthed by a field party from the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences.

The discoveries included special kinds of pottery, barbed fish hooks, harpoons and other relics of hammered copper, indicating they were fashioned by an ancient Indian civilization, museum archeologists said.

Coast Grid Race To Be Scramble

Any One Of Five Colleges May Cop Title; Bears And Huskies Rank Near Top

By JACK GUENTHER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES, (UP)—A bitter, topsy-turvy football battle—with the eventual winner likely to be defeated at least once—is forecast for the Pacific Coast Conference by coaches.

As each of the eight major teams must meet all others before the season ends, any of five institutions can be looked upon as possible champion. At present, however, the University of California at Berkeley and the University of Washington, the defending titlist, are ticketed as the strongest and most evenly balanced squads. Either is capable of speed or power, hard drives or flashy laterals as the need arises.

Three more, Stanford, Southern California and California at Los Angeles are formidable, but must be relegated to the second bracket until their first-string elevens are seen on the field.

Washington State holds an outside chance of complicating the title chase, but the Oregon State and Oregon University aggregations seem destined for the cellar berths. Idaho or Montana neither can win the championship because of failure to play a full list of conference colleges.

Despite the sound drubbing taken by Washington, a well-rounded, versatile eleven, from Pittsburgh in the Rose Bowl game, coaches there indicate intentions to toss over power plays in favor of the flossy end sweeps and fancy lateral passes. At Berkeley, Stub Allison sounded the warning several months ago when he said he would scrap the ponderous California tactics in favor of speed and a diversified attack. Howard Jones has tinkered with rugby plays at U.S.C. but little chance is expected there.

The U.C.L.A. Bruins, always noted for stubborn defenses but little in the way of attack, are going all the way for speed plays this season. Bill Spaulding reiterates that the defense can take care of itself. He is going to attempt to score one touchdown more than the opponent, even if that score will be 36-30 or 48-42. Up at Oregon State, Lon Stiner, with a record of two victories and five losses last season, is adopting the same strategy, and predicting that the Orange and Black will throw a lot of footballs.

At Stanford the Warner system will remain virtually unchanged. With a strong record from last season behind, Jimmy Phelan also will depend on the same plays which carried the Huskies to the title. But what new plays there are will definitely be of the open, fast-breaking types.

YELLOWSTONE CLOSES FOR LACK OF FUNDS

A statement received from Edmund B. Rogers, superintendent of Yellowstone Park, announces the closing of the park to the general public on September 27, for lack of funds.

The statement says in part: "Due to the present critical condition of its appropriation because of the heavier than usual expenditures for summer operation and protection plus the fact that the President impounded ten per cent of the funds Congress appropriated for park purposes, it has become mandatory that immediate steps be taken to conserve what remains in the appropriation to take care of the opening of the park in the spring.

"This is the first time it has been necessary to close the park gates before the roads were blocked by snow but under the circumstances it has not been found possible to continue to admit motorists.

"The co-operation of all chambers of commerce, tourist bureaus, gasoline filling stations, newspapers, and other dispensing information to the public is requested in advising persons contemplating a visit to the park after September 26 that it will be absolutely impossible for them to enter at any of the park gates after the close of that date. The park will be open only to contractors, operators, and government employees and to those having business directly therewith and under no circumstances will the general public be admitted.

The necessity for such action on the part of the National Park Service is greatly regretted but without sufficient funds it is absolutely impossible for the park to be operated and the general public admitted at the gates."

Mrs. Agnes Brooks was in town on Wednesday from the Slate Mountain district.

"WEE WILLIE WINKIE," KIPLING TALE, AT EMPIRE THURSDAY

Marking the beginning of a new phase in Shirley Temple's screen career, "Wee Willie Winkie," the famous Rudyard Kipling story of India, opens Thursday at the Empire Theatre. The spectacular Twentieth Century-Fox drama was directed by Academy award winner John Ford.

The curlyheaded child star, who has been acclaimed as the No. 1 box office attraction of both America and England, has a highly dramatic role, the strongest supporting cast of any of her screen successes, and the most elaborate production yet accorded one of her films.

Shirley's co-star in "Wee Willie Winkie" is Victor McLaglen, himself an Academy Award winner, and the supporting cast includes C. Aubrey Smith, June Lang, Michael Whalen, Cesar Romero, Constance Collier and young Douglas Scott, among many others.

Lyman A. Bender and Joseph Bender were among Monday visitors from Pleasant Valley.

Bert Cassidy, publisher of the Auburn Journal, was a caller at this office, Tuesday.

B. J. Dellis returned to his barber shop Tuesday after a whirl at bass fishing on the Sacramento river.

It was given, and especially dedicated to the dance fans of El Dorado County, in appreciation of the splendid support and attendance given the Motor City dances the past summer season. "It is our plan to continue on through the fall and winter season with the

Sheep Demonstrations Held Wednesday

The morning meeting was conducted at the William Wulff ranch in the Rescue district and the afternoon meeting was at the Tony D'Agostini ranch, in the Fairplay district.

Farm Advisor Lilley accompanied Mr. Mills to both meetings and assisted in the discussion of problems of the industry.
